IN NEW YORK, a charming young girl of nineteen, named Gertie, blind for fifteen years, her sight now restored, is announced to be a wonderful thing of which she has heard.
But it is not the Taj Mahal, shimmering in India's warm sunshine, the Bay of Naples, Melrose Abbey by moonlight, the mysterious Sphinx looking out over the sands, or the Great Wall of China, that she wants to see.
She tells the New York Evening
Journal that she wants to see her father, RUTH and JACK DEMPSEY.
"I may not, nature will approve that desire, for Mother Nature wants young women to be interested first of all in powerful young men that can do things."

Young ladies appear in the news in several places. Detectives are following and investigating one young person supposed to have led an old and rich man to a convenient place for a high sea walk, where the man with whom she worked pushed him off, robbed him and let him drown.

Outside the Shreveport courthouse in Louisiana two beautiful young ladies, standing on a truck shrouded at a fighting crowd of three thousand:

"You men are a bunch of dirty, yellow cowards. If you don't get him,"

"Hill" was a 25-year-old salesman of artificial butterflies, a white man, but had confessed killing a 16-year-old girl.

Zoro Agba, Turkish gentleman, married many times, came here saying he was one hundred and sixty years old. Americans believed he was one hundred years old, interestingly announced.

Dr. Vonsoff, Grand specialist who makes old men think they are young, efforts to make scientifically the exact age of Zoro Agba, but the aged Turk said "No, no."

The late Professor Shaler, of Harvard, says that no human being has ever been proved to have lived longer than one hundred and ten years.

Science assures you that in the future men will live to one hundred and fifty normally.
The wise man will say:

"No, thank you. It is too much trouble to live even to eighty. I should rather stop and start again."

New York State has apparently decided to legalize gaming track gambling by a subterfuge, although the State constitution forbids it.

The matter is not practically very important, disinterested public officials and the public passion for gambling, having long since made the State constitution and laws ridiculous.

It will make gambling easier, with less blackmailing of gamblers, make more young men into thieves, and more young women into something worse.
But that is the trend of our present "civilization." Men of character are actually discus-ing the establishment of public lotteries, to help public finances.

According to Washington,
United States marines that have been in Haiti for nineteen years will be withdrawn in October, and Haiti will manage her own affairs, including her finances.

Everybody will hope for good results, not everybody will expect them.

The Haitians will find useful warning in what France wrote about one of Haiti's neighbors. One side of a West Indian island, with well-built wharves, brick warehouses, other civilized equipment, was tempting to complete control of natives. The other side of the island was retained by Englishmen. Presently the natives that had received "complete control" came around from their work to work for the Englishmen, and their buildings fell into decay.

It is easy to work for a so-called civilization, difficult to build or maintain one.

former President Roosevelt, dis-

Fenway Park, April 19—
Moose Solters came through with a terrific drive over the center field wall for a home run to give the Red Sox their first victory of the season, 5 to 4.
Over Washington here this morning.

Solters was the first batter in the mound for the Red Sox. After he had yielded four runs and seven hits he was relieved by Dusty Rhodes in the ninth and the Senators went out in order in the next two innings. Walter Stewart started for Washington but was taken out in the seventh. Crowder, Zip led up.

John's name spoke in the first inning. He had been pushed over analog in the fourth on a couple of singles and an error by Joe Cronin only to have Washington tie it up in the next inning.

In the sixth Reynolds hit the ball and the Red Sox were leading Werber at Johnson, giving the Red Sox a two-run lead. A double by Harris in the next chapter brought Berg and Myer and tied up the ball game. The deadlock was broken up by Moose Solters' terrific home run.

FIRST INNING
Washington—Myer tied to Johnson. As did Stone. Manush walked.
Cronin doubled off the wall in center field scoring Manush from first.
Werber threw out Solters at first.

JUROR CHALLENGES LEFT O MILLENS AND FABER

COURTMAST SIT SATURDAY IF BOX UNFILLED

Outing Planned Today 6 Men Selected to Serve

By WIN BROOKS
Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

Dedham Courthouse, April 19.—With the Milten-Faber trial adjourned for the holiday, the spotlight swung in a two-block area from Dedham courthouse to Dedham jail and remained focused on the door of the head of the narrow iron bars.

Norma Milten, under subpoena to court Monday as a witness at the trial, was reported to be awaiting of exit.

Interest switched abruptly from the scene of the trial to the red brick and gray stone building where Murton Milten's 19-year-old bride awaits a trial to follow that of her husband, his brother, Irving, and Abe Faber.

Arriving at the jail this afternoon, George A. Douglas, counsel for Norma, was asked about the chances of her being held today.

"There is always a chance," he said, "but I doubt that it will be this afternoon."

He went in to see her and said that if possible he would arrange it so Norma might have a glimpse of her husband in the jail.

The jurors, after a short walk, embarked in a bus for a day which at some point was expected to bring them along the Marathon course.

Following swiftly on the heels of the motion seeking quashing of the indictments against Norma, a rumor that she was to be bailed in $25,000 set by the court as the bond for her liberty, swept through Dedham. A handful of newspapermen kept a lonely vigil in the jailyard through the night.

Full Jury Box

Looms Tomorrow
Her counsel and his associate, Hester C. Cutler, were non-committal. Her father, Rev. Norman Brighton, Natick retired clergyman said she had a chest cold, and that he wished she were out, and that the money to bail her was available.

Diet-Att. Edmund R. Dewing said he had not been apprised of any plans to bail her. Jail officials said they had not been notified. Yet the report, a persistent rumor since the start of the trial involving her husband gained ground.

The district attorney worked so late at the courthouse putting the finishing touches on the commonwealth's case, that he found himself locked in last night, and had to hunt the janitor to unlock the door, so he might go home.

Meanwhile—without a thought concerning Norma—Norfolk county officials prepared to give the six jurors already chosen for the trial of the three men an outing that would keep them happy and healthy.

Easily to bed in their courthous dormitory last night, after a game of bridge and a playing match, the jurors were up before this morning, prepared for a day of relaxation. Every juror was to guard their health and isolation during the progress of the trial has been ordered by the court and is being taken by their guards, Sheriff Deputies Howard Capen and Ernest Woodman.

Although it required examination of 60 talesmen to produce a half-dozen jurors acceptable to court and Commonwealth and the fates, the prospects of getting a full jury box by tomorrow morning are not remote, inasmuch as the defense challenges remaining have dwindled to a total of 10 for the three prisoners.

The defense has challenged 26

Remarkable Closeup of Trio -- Who Spend Patriots' Day in Cells

talesmen who were qualified by the court and acceptable to the prosecution. Thirty-one talesmen have been excused for cause since the individual examination began.

Faber has but two challenges in reserve. Irving has three left. Murton Milten five.

Should adjournment tomorrow find the jury still incomplete, there is no indication that the court will change its mind and sit Saturday.

There were highlights and shadows, swift currents and sluggish backwaters yesterday as the selection of the jury continued with the defense. Chief, William R. Beharion and George S. Harvey fighting to prevent the qualifications of talesmen who had been interrogated by state and local police around with my stance or my pictures. Most amazing of all was the paper hanger from Quincy, Frank T. Appleton, who, having only last Saturday been robbed and beaten, was sworn and seated as one of a jury to decide the fate of three men alleged to have killed during robbery.

A tear on his forehead, trophy of the assault, was the first to Judge Brown who surprised even defense counsel when he recalled Appleton to the stand and by questioning revealed the situation. Although Appleton declared he held no bias because he had been a victim himself, court avoided any possible complications and sent him home to Quincy and his wife.

Then there was the talesman who blurted out that she should be "persecuted," and then, of course, there was Samuel Hughes.

Hughes, a janitor from Quincy, confidentially informed the court that it was his 50th birthday. Judge Brown, smiling, said: "I think you better go home."

"I don't want to go home," he said, "I hope the jurors have a good time."

Judge Brown is an expert photographer. He enjoys it. He says he is a single man and a peace officer.

Plans for the entertainment of the jurors would not be revealed by the aged sheriff Capen. It is expected, however, that the jurors will be taken for a bus ride and there is a possibility they may go to the movies in the evening. At the close of court last night a third deputy sheriff was sworn to replace the six-man panel.

Diet-Att. Edmund R. Dewing will enjoy his day off playing baseball with his four children. He will undoubtedly take the family to Wellesley sq. during the early afternoon to watch the Marathon runners pass. The district attorney's home is only a few minutes away from the square.

Mrs. Edmund R. Dewing, wife of the district attorney, and friend of other court officials are the only spectators from the general public that have been allowed in the courtroom during the impelling of the jury. The guests sat in the spare jury box during the morning and afternoon sessions yesterday.

"The what is that opinion based," the court asked. "Go, that's a hard one, isn't it, judge," Stanley replied.

"I've got some more harder ones for you," the court said. Stanley was excused for cause.

Clerk Robert H. Worthington was slightly embarrassed and a bit upset at the opening of a new suit for the key to the Ellis bar.

Miss Brewerton has been the official court stenographer for the past decade. She handled much of the testimony at the famous Willet-Sears civil case, the longest trial on record in this state, and said to be the second longest in history.

Many of the talesmen examined during the impassing of the jury became very confidential with the judge. The men reply to the questions put to them by the judge in a very low voice. Repeatedly, the stenographers, who sit directly in front of the witness stand, interrupt to ask for repetition of answers.

CONGRESS WILL GET NEW PLEA OF FREEDOM

1200 Lexington Citizens Sign 'Declaration' on Interference

A committee of Lexington residents in Washington today to present, through Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers, to Congress, a petition protesting against "unreasonable interference by the Federal government in the affairs of a free people."

The petition, described by its authors as a new Declaration of Independence and signed by more than 1200 citizens of Lexington, is drawn in the general form used in Colonial days in protests to the provincial and colonial governing bodies.

TO READ PETITION
There will also be a reading of the petition by Chairman Robert Trask, of the Lexington Board of Selectmen during that town's exercises in observance of Patriot's Day today.

The petition reads in part as follows: "When a free people feel their rights are being trampled upon and that the guidance of the government is being unduly influenced by advisors not chosen by the people, it is a duty as well as a right of the people to express determined disapproval."

"We protest against federal interference in business under the guise of promoting social reform and economic recovery."

"We protest against the passage of legislation without more careful consideration by Congress."

PROTEST ON BUREAUS
"We protest against the increase of bureaus, boards and commissions and the delegation of arbitrary powers to such governmental agencies."

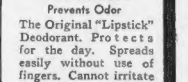

"We are resolved that the individual's rights of private enterprise and its rewards must continue, free from unreasonable interference by the federal government and demand their preservation at your hands."

Included among the prominent residents of Lexington listed as signers are: Former Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard B. McCabe of Middlesex County, Dr. Arthur Silsbee, H. Dudley Murphy, Edmund Bentley, Atty. Robert P. Clapp, Fletcher W. Taft, P. J. Shanahan, Dr. William L. Starks, Errol Locke and Converse Hill.

Hobbies Command Attention of Judge Brown on His Day Off

By WILLIAM C. CONWAY

Dedham Courthouse, April 19.—Court officials, the six members of the jury, and counsel will take advantage of the holiday to enjoy various forms of recreation. Judge Brown has so many hobbies he hasn't decided which one will occupy his time.

"I may spend the day fusing around with my stance or my pictures," he said. "I have a good day I may go for a little fishing, or I may go for a little hunting."

Judge Brown is an expert photographer. He enjoys it. He says he is a single man and a peace officer.

BOY SLAYER IN MENTAL QUIZ

Universal Service
Chicago, April 19.—Declaring jail was more pleasant than home, George Kozulsky, 13, probably boy held in jail for the death of 21-year-old Dorcas Zintow, glibly talked about himself and his family to six aliases.

Dr. Harry Hoffman and other doctors here for a convention of the American College of Physicians, stated following the talk that Kozulsky had "a mental condition," but they hesitated to name it.

"I don't have time to do anything but work," he said. "I was pretty good in arithmetic, and the other boys used to copy my problems."

Dr. Hoffman asked: "Why were you sent to the detention home?"

"For looking at a little girl," Kozulsky said. "I had made up my mind to do it."

George told the alienist that he regularly went to church, but had not done so in a long time. Little Dorcas was at the abandoned ice house, where she was found shortly before the act of exposure and starvation.

NORMA MILLEN TRIES NEW SPRING DRESS FOR COURT

BRIDE IS HER PREFERENCE IN COLOR THEME

Companions in Jail Watch; Bride Forgets Head Cold

Dedham Courthouse, April 19.—Jail walls do not prevent Norma Milles from trying on new spring clothes.

Today she was hoping for freedom on bail as a result of the latest move of her attorney, and she was preparing for this liberty by selecting new dresses, a hat and a blue spring coat.

She walked about, trying on these things like a mannikin, in the rooms of the Dedham jail, while a few other women inmates looked on, curiously from their cells. It seems, is Norma's favorite color and it will predominate in her wardrobe.

TWO MOTIONS FILED
Her stepmother, who took the clothes to her, revealed that not only is Norma preparing for a moderately stylish appearance when released as a witness, but she also hopes for a brief vacation, a few days in the sun, before that time.

Everything depends on the court's action on two motions filed by her lawyers, asking quashing of one of the indictments against her.

Norma's father, Rev. Norman Brigham, himself authoritatively consent from head in too, accompanied Norma's stepmother to the jail when the garments were taken to his daughter.

They did not talk of the present trial at which, yesterday afternoon, Norma's father testified against her father-in-law, Joseph Milles.

REFUSES FROM COLD
Norma has a head cold but she forgot all about it as she tried on the spring coat which she had ordered, saying:

"Get me a navy blue coat with simple line and no fur collar." But the coat, Mrs. Brigham brought was a little too tight and a zipper she is being procured.

Washington, April 19 (AP)—Sec. of the Treasury Morgenthau today reported that the manufacture of the illicit liquor is still "a very hazy industry."

He said he planned to get "hit and hit it hard."

The treasury department explained the department was "beginning to get interested in the illicit manufacture" of intoxicants, because on May 10 the old prohibition unit will be transferred from the Justice Department to the bureau of industrial alcohol. That is under the Treasury.

Morgenthau disclosed revenue agents already had started seeking stills and illegal stills. He said 73 stills were taken last week throughout the country along with 84,000 gallons of spirits and 17,000 gallons of malt valued at $17,000.

This illegal business, he said, appears to be "as bad as it ever was."

V. F. W. Leaders Greet Chief

Passage of the Veterans' bonus bill by the United States Senate was forecast today by James E. Van Zandt, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who is in Boston for the annual visitation to the Massachusetts department.

The bill, which comes up for a vote next week, will not be vetoed by President Roosevelt, Mr. Van Zandt said.

"We have 38 Senators in favor of the bill," the youthful chief said, "and 14 others are doubtful. We are working on them today in Washington. President Roosevelt will not veto the bill. He will sign the measure to get back into the good graces of the veterans."

"By signing the bill, which would pour $2,500,000,000 into circulation, President Roosevelt will assure himself of a Democratic Congress at the next election. You know what would happen if a Republican Congress was elected."

ATTACKS POLITICS
"The measure is an important one in the recovery program. Millions are being spent for the CWA, ERA, CCC and other projects to increase purchasing power. The veterans represent proper credit."

"The Veterans of Foreign Wars want to take the veterans out of politics. Disillusioned states between him and Congress as a result of the efforts of politicians."

Several weeks ago we presented a resolution in Congress which would authorize the President to appoint a commission to develop a National Uniform Pension Code. Under this code there would be no Spanish War veterans, World War veterans and these would be only veterans—all of us under one banner."

"We would receive an equal allowance according to our age and disability, and in future wars, the soldier would know he would receive if he came back, or how much his dependents would receive if he were killed."

OPPOSE UNPREPAREDNESS
"We are actively opposed to adoption of unpreparedness and Communists and all other 'ists,' and we are beginning a campaign now in every college and school in the country against the raising idea of these advocates in our educational institutions."

A luncheon will be tendered the commander-in-chief tomorrow at the Copley Plaza by Gov. Ely. More than 1000 members and friends of the Massachusetts department will gather at the Hotel Bradford Saturday night for a banquet, and on Sunday there will be a parade featuring the newly formed Sons of Veterans. Work Urged by First Lady
By International News Service.
New York, April 19.—Don't let down on ideals, but go to work, Mrs. Roosevelt said today.

Her address from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today rang in the ears of more than 400 wealthy elite, many of them debutantes of the future.

"It's worth while to work," she said. "If you don't work at something you are an encumbrance. The world today has no place for encumbrances. I mean that everyone must pay their way in the world, but I do not necessarily mean that they must be paid a salary for it."

Her listeners were students of private schools, gathered in Spence School to hear a graduation address from the First Lady, who continued:

"You girls who don't have to work for your living had better do without salary. That doesn't mean, though, that you should not pay your way. We don't think much of the boy who doesn't work; why should we of the girls?"

WOMAN HUNTED IN DEATH OF DEDHAM GIRL

Youth Facing Further Quiz; Autopsy Shows Poison as a Cause

A Cambridge woman was being sought for questioning today by police investigating the death of Miss Martha Rayner, 20, whose body was found in a West Newton lodging house.

Further questions also were to be put today to a Dedham youth, claimed by authorities to have been a close friend of the girl victim.

According to an official finding by Dr. T. Morton Gallagher, medical examiner, Miss Rayner died of poisoning caused by medicine she took while in a delicate condition.

QUIZZED BY POLICE
The Dedham youth was questioned at length by police yesterday after the young woman's body was found in the Webster at Judge house. At the time the youth denied all knowledge of the case of the young woman's death.

Mrs. Rayner told police the girl, who lived in Whitling ave., Dedham, came to her home Sunday with the youth and obtained a room, saying she expected to stay about a week.

Since that time the young man was a frequent visitor, according to Mrs. Hines. Early yesterday the young woman complained to Mrs. Hines of pain in her back.

The latter made some coffee and when she returned to the room found Miss Rayner dead.

EMPLOYED IN BOSTON
The young woman was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Rayner of Whitling ave., Dedham, and was graduated from Dedham high school in 1931. While at school she was prominent in girls' athletic and social affairs.

Since her graduation she had been employed in Boston in a State at insurance office. Her father told police she left home Saturday evening apparently on an auto trip to New Hampshire.

JAFSIE'S VISIT IS AWAITED BY MURPHY

Boston Suspect Is Reported to Have Ransom-Bought Jewelry

Aid of New Jersey state authorities was offered to U. S. Marshal John J. Murphy in development of a newly discovered clue to the Lindbergh baby kidnapping.

The possible clue is declared to be in the hands of Marshal Murphy, who today was awaiting word from New York on the request to federal authorities that Dr. John F. "Jafsie" Condon, who tested the ransom money over a century wall, be sent here.

It is understood a suspect arrested in Boston had in his possession a piece of jewelry purchased abroad with money declared to have been part of the ransom money.

"We know nothing about this development," it was declared today at Trenton, N. J., by Ed. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, "other than what appears in the newspapers. We have received no information from Condon, but are ready to offer such assistance and information as we may have."

Considerable mystery surrounds the nature of the newly discovered clue and officials are maintaining a discreet silence.

The fact that Marshal Murphy wished to see Dr. Condon, who acted as intermediary for Col. Lindbergh in paying $50,000 to a member of the kidnap gang, led to the belief here that he had a picture which he was hopeful the famous "Jafsie" could identify as the man to whom he paid the ransom money.

MALDEN STARS PLASTIC ART ON HURT IN BLAST
Mrs. BENNETT

By Associated Press.
Los Angeles, April 19.—Mrs. Richard Bennett underwent a plastic surgery treatment a few hours after withdrawal of her battery complaint against her ex-husband, it was learned today.

She was taken to a hospital late yesterday, operated upon last night and was reported resting comfortably today. The exact nature of the treatment was not disclosed.

Discharge of the complaint, filing of which last week ended a year-old, acrimonious marital dispute, followed a conference between Mrs. Bennett and her parents.

Two Malden high school athletes narrowly escaped death today and 10 of their teammates were slightly shaken up when a gas heater exploded in the cellar of the Pearl at stadium field house.

Fred Guttaglietti, baseball and football star, and Len Levine, football star, on last year's team, were knocked to the floor and both received slight burns about the face.

The athletes had congregated in the field house after a practice session for rainwater and showers. Guttaglietti and Levine went to the showers in the cellar. Both sustained a strong odor of gas and went to investigate. One lit a match and the explosion followed.

INNES FETED BY 'GRADUATES'

Charles H. Innes was feted once again at the 35th annual reception and dinner of the Charles H. Innes Law Association at Hotel Touraine. The event is a yearly testimonial by "graduates" of Innes' evening classes in law, before there was a law school in Boston.

Speakers at the affair included former Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols, Registrar of Deeds W. T. A. Fitzgerald, Judge William G. Fox, of Brockton court, Gen. Daniel Needham and Pres. Raymond F. Dolan of the association.

In his talk Innes declared he had never suggested to his son, Rep. Charles J. Innes, how he should vote on any bill before the Massachusetts Legislature.

Poet Markham Praises Rushmore Contest

Praise for the Mt. Rushmore memorial inscription competition idea, comes from all quarters to the local headquarters competition editor at the Boston Evening American, 5 Withington sq., Boston.

American immortals will be the subjects for glowing texts on stone in the granite rimmed hills in South Dakota.

One of the latest of American figures to laud the idea is Edwin Markham, famous poet, author of "The Man With the Hoe" and other works.

"A heroic work of art such as the Rushmore National Memorial should be invested with added significance by inscriptions written by patriotic hands," says Mr. Markham.

"Noble deeds invite men to moving words, and no country has a richer historic pageant to the sons of men."

"Leaders who kindle such admiration in far-off lands provide challenging motives for the pens of their own American descendants."

"Majestic in conception, the Rushmore National Memorial should furnish the impulse for inscriptions of words and splendor all their own."

CHERRY FETE ON IN CAPITAL

By Associated Press
Washington, April 18—Dances in the dawn opened Washington's cherry blossom festival today.

The dances—which really did not take place until a good bit after dawn—originally were to feature kimono costumes in deference to the Japanese blooms, a gift from Nippon.

This was abandoned in favor of dances on the greenward typical of spring when the presence of the Japanese ambassador became problematical.

The blossoms were to be a background this afternoon for the crowning of Miss Eleanor Roosevelt, daughter of the assistant secretary of the navy and Mrs. Henry La Roche Roosevelt, as cherry blossom queen.

White Collar Men Called To Arms

By Associated Press
Pittsburgh, April 18—A call to arms for the long-suffering "white collar" workers, the millions of middle-class men who are flanked on one side by capital and the other by labor, was sounded today by Eugene A. Holland, Pittsburgh insurance man.

Announcing the formation of the White Collar League of America, Holland said:

"There are 35,000,000 potential members in the white collar class. Many have drained all their resources but you don't find them in the labor lines; their middle class pride prevents them from making any appeal."

GIRL ORDERED STERILIZED

By Universal Service
Oklahoma City, Okla., April 18—Wanda Alvin, 23, a patient at Central State Asylum for Insane, was the first patient ordered sterilized in the initial state board hearing.

The girl was described by doctors as having been imbecile since birth.

Following the hearing of the Alvin girl, the case of Marie Cantrell was taken up but not completed. The board had 15 cases, 14 women and one man, set for hearing and it will require several days to finish.

The Alvin girl seemed to understand the purpose of the hearing, but apparently was unconcerned.

The only request the girl made was that she might return home immediately after the operation.

This was agreed to.

LABOR PLAN UP TO ROOSEVELT

By Associated Press
Washington, April 18—Congress put two of its most controversial issues—silver and labor—up to President Roosevelt today.

Sen. Wagner (D., N. Y.) carried to the White House his measure to create a Supreme Court for labor and forbid employer-dominated company unions. He expressed confidence of Presidential support.

Sen. King (D., Utah) headed a group to argue for silver. He, too, was hopeful of White House favor.

Mr. date Mr. Roosevelt has maintained close silence on the silver remonetization question.

The Wagner bill was made the subject of a round table conference between the President, Hugh S. Johnson, his recovery administrator, Donald Richberg, NIRA counsel; Secretary Perkins.

The LOVE LETTERS of CHARLES DICKENS

to Maria Beadnell

The publication of this series of hitherto unrevealed letters written by Charles Dickens to Maria Beadnell, whom he loved and lost, but found again after twenty years, is of profound importance to every admirer of the works of this great novelist.

Jilted by Maria Beadnell in his youth, given by her only misery and regret in his early manhood, the loss of her love drove Dickens to the fierce labors which made him the greatest novelist of his age and one of the greatest of all time.

SUNDAY ADVERTISER

These letters reveal an intimate and personal side of Dickens not touched on in any of his biographies. They throw light on a romantic interlude of Dickens the man as well as Dickens the novelist.

Washington SIDE SHOW

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

Washington, April 19.—During the late unpleasantness with Germany, Woodrow Wilson turned a flock of sheep loose in the White House grounds, looked and barred the big iron gates, and ran the war on intellect.

Perhaps Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the Supreme Court was closest to the mind of the President, who for days on end and even weeks did not see his subordinates, heads of great boards and commissions charged with actual responsibility. It was a system which naturally made the commander-in-chief unfamiliar with details while he developed himself to broad policies.

The annual gathering of the Washington seems today is the astonishing familiarity of President Roosevelt with the most intricate details. How he learns them is a mystery.

For instance, the sugar people assembled for weeks in Washington to get up a quota scheme to save the domestic industry, rescue Cuba from bankruptcy, and regain the world market, became completely bogged down by February 7. The situation was critical, nobody knew what was in the President's mind. He sent for the key sugar men, there was a conference, and the President answered everybody by his grasp of the complicated cross-word puzzle of sugar, for years the least understood schedule in every tariff bill. He started the wheels—and the sugar bill is the answer.

President Knows

It is no secret that the AAA is facing the problem of enforcing the cotton control bill in the spirit of the farmer, inspired by an irresistible impulse, who was going to town to get drunk. Gosh how the AAA does dread it!

This is not even an illegitimate effraying of the brain trust. True, the bonhead has been taken out of the bankhead, by the elimination in conference of the Senate amendment exempting from the tax the first six bales grown by each farm.

It was discovered, that if every farmer, plantation and tenant, could grow six bales the total cotton crop would exceed the limit of 20,000,000 bales imposed by the bill. In the frank language of Chester C. Davis, administrator of the AAA, this bill is a "tough cookie."

Before this bill got far on its way, Mr. Roosevelt took a hand. He sent for the experts to bring the cotton export figures. Davis brought the latest he had.

President Roosevelt threw them under the table. He then produced his own. They were two months later, and more reliable than the best figures the administrator had. Davis admitted that the President was right. With the smile the President admitted it too, which made it unanimous.

How did the President obtain his?

Revere and Dawes Ride Again -- Spreading Historic Middlesex Alarm

MAYOR MANSFIELD

Duplicating the historic feat of William Dawes, Sergt. Edwin Parry of the 110th Cavalry, M. N. G., pounced out of Elliot sq. today as a part of the Patriot's Day celebration. A large crowd in Roxbury speeded him on as he left for Concord to "spread the alarm." (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

3 SHOT IN WESTON BATTLE

for the car, which is said to be equipped with both New York and Illinois license plates. He also ordered that all hospitals and doctors' offices be checked to find whether any of the men applied for treatment of bullet wounds.

Rhode Island authorities were also asked to co-operate in the man hunt, which was reported in the mystery car had made the Providence turn in the road.

The man believed to have been snatched was last seen by Motorist Officer Alfred Rector of the Weston police with gleaming handcuffs at his wrists.

After narrowly missing death when the fast auto forced him into a ditch, Rector recovered his machine and started in pursuit. He followed the driver to a house in Illinois and New York license plates, after a mile chase and commanded the driver to stop.

The first of the men to climb aboard the car opened fire on the officer.

Drawing his gun, Rector fired a fusillade of five shots, striking both the driver and a second man, who had emerged from the founess.

The first man answered with more withering fire, the bullets flying low over the patrolman's head.

Immediately after the driver fired the first shot, the man believed to be the victim of the alleged kidnappers, climbed from a rear seat and tried to run toward the officer, but was dragged back to the floor of the auto.

Five more shots were poured into the auto as the man retreated and began to race the motor in preparation of a getaway. Rector, approaching, said he saw the man bound by handcuffs, and five more in the car.

Frank Dunford, a Richmond packer, said the conference was attended by Miss Ada L. Burroughs, who is on trial with the chairman on a charge of conspiring to violate the corrupt practices act by not reporting all of a campaign contribution.

Dunford said other present were Dr. J. Sidney Peters, a leader in the Virginia anti-smith movement; Lewis F. Powell, Virginia Anti-Slavery League official, and members of the Dunford household.

Decision has been reserved by Judge Louis S. Cox, of Suffolk Superior Court, as to whether Russell H. Clark, of Commonwealth avenue, Arlington, is guilty of larceny of $25,000 from Mrs. Caroline L. Barnes, 47 of Beacon st., Back Bay.

There rode thro' the night A man without fear 'Twas brave William Dawes Telling danger was near.

His horse, swift and trusty That night bore him far As he spread the word of tidings, The message of war.

"Rise up! "Up and arm!" The warning he'd shout And each patriot brave At the signal looked ready His musket made ready

His sword buckled tight As a moment was ready For freedom to fight

So William Dawes rode In a moment was ready For freedom to fight And we tell of his bravery And courage today.

Washington, April 19.—A witness at the trial of Bishop James Connelley, Jr., quoted the chairman today as saying at a conference in Richmond that "I'll go to jail before I divulge" names of persons to whom money was given in the 1928 anti-smith campaign.

Northampton, April 19.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Clarence L. Marks, Jr., of Philadelphia, from the Dartmouth College campus at Hanover, N. U. S. HAS HUGE HOME PROJECT

By Associated Press

Washington, April 18—President Roosevelt planned a huge home construction and modernization campaign at a lengthy White House conference today which developed the general outlines for government aid in this direction.

The White House conference seriously considered ways to stimulate modernization in the commercial and industrial fields as well as home improvement.

Frank C. Walker, the chairman of President Roosevelt's executive committee, detailed the general outlines of the program to the White House meeting. He announced that the meeting would be necessary and that the whole proposition is still in "tentative form."

"We are seeking to coordinate all housing activities," he said. "The idea is to stimulate private capital. Whether direct government loans will be made has not been decided," he said.

Secretaries Morgenthau, Roper, Tolson and Wallace, together with Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, industrial administrator, and Jesse J. Hopkins, federal administrator, participated in the conference.

Walker declined to say how much money would be involved in the huge undertaking. Estimates have run to $1,500,000,000.

FISHER WANTS MONEY ACTION

By Associated Press

Chicago, April 18 (AP)—When the NRA began, said Dr. Irving Fisher today, recovery stopped.

The Yale economist was speaking before the Chicago Federated Advertising Club.

Recovery seemed, however, with resumption of the President's monetary policy, he said.

"The deficit in our dollars has been partly remedied already by President Roosevelt," Dr. Fisher asserted, "and every effort toward that end has been accompanied by immediate signs of recovery."

"Thanks to this we are now on our way out of the depression. But we would get out faster if the monetary policy were pursued more aggressively and were not constantly interrupted by the reactionaries."

135,000 Now Get Old Age Pensions

Splendid assistance is being given by the public in the campaign of the Boston Evening American and Associated Hearst newspapers to keep America out of the League of Nations and associated newspapers. Latest of the patriotic societies to join in the fight are the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Edwardsville, Kan., April 19 (INS)—The Edwardsville State Bank was looted of all its cash—$140,000—today by two heavily armed men and a woman who shielded their escape by kidnapping K. H. Veatch, vice-president, and Arthur Knight, a bystander. Veatch and Knight later were released.

VOYVA IS READY FOR GUN WAR

By International News Service

St. Paul, Minn., April 18—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, governor of the Catholic Apostolic Church of Zion, today served notice on his enemies that he stands ready to meet hostility with gunplay and wholesale killings, if necessary.

Speaking before 200 at the weekly prayer meeting in St. Paul, Voliva, 52, today served notice on his enemies that he stands ready to meet hostility with gunplay and wholesale killings, if necessary.

"I was brought up a gunman," Voliva shouted.

"I am heavily armed now, and I'll kill a man at the drop of a hat in self-defense. My guards are ordered to shoot at a second's warning."

"I am a honest-to-goodness old warrior, with a few yellow curls against me. Thrust, stab and otherwise, have been made against me. Let them act, and I guarantee to kill any hundred persons."

JUNIOR BIRDMEN OF AMERICA

START LEAVING NEW YORK HEAD-QUARTERS TODAY!

By LAWRENCE SHAW
National Director

Greetings, members! Here is some great news for you! The wings are here! The memberships are going out! And by tomorrow and Saturday thousands and thousands of boys and girls in and around Boston will be wearing their Junior Birdmen emblems and sporting their gold or silver membership cards. Pretty soon every one of you will be none diving into actual column features, and doing wing overs about our many activities!

Every Junior Birdman of America Wing in the country is sending out their memberships today and the nation is now on its way towards having its first active group of airmen of the future.

Your Membership Is Coming, Too

If you do not receive your membership tomorrow or the next day, just remember that there have been thousands of applications received by the Boston Evening American wing and we are putting them into the envelope just as quickly as our large staff possibly can.

Each member will receive a wrap-up, membership card, official notification of acceptance by the membership committee and a leaflet explaining how each one can form a Junior Birdman of America flight squadron in his own town or neighborhood. On the back of this leaflet, members will also learn how to receive an Eagle and Ace membership ranking, with bars to attach to your wings.

We are not going to keep up an appeal for membership much longer as there are too many other valuable items that will occupy actual flying. Look at Amelia Earhart, Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and others.

Frank Hawks can not be reached at his New York office. He is presently in China, demonstrating American made bombers to the government.

It will be necessary to have 30 members to organize a flight squadron. They must be boys or girls who are already members of the Junior Birdmen. Further information about organizing a flight unit will appear in Sunday's column.

There will be many activities for members who are not interested in model building. However, with the model builders course for beginners, which will soon appear in these columns, most every member will be building his own outdoor model flying season begins.

There are several fine kits of the new Waco "C" cabin type bi-plane for sale on the market. Some are selling model kits and supplies should have them on hand.

The Junior Birdmen of America model contest rules will be similar to N. A. A. regulations but simplified and easier.

Please enroll me as a member of this new nationwide Junior organization for boys and girls. I pledge myself to become an active (Junior Birdman) (Junior Birdwoman) this column space beginning Monday. So be sure that you join now and become an early bird of the Junior Birdmen. Of course our membership application coupon, which appears under this column today, will always be published so that boys and girls can always check our ranks and affiliate themselves with our organization. But don't wait. If you do you are going to miss some good times.

Questions and Answers

While hundreds of letters are coming in each day, bearing applications for memberships, hundreds more are being received from boys and girls who already sent in for membership before. For various questions to be answered in our column, answers for which I have no room today, will appear shortly. Watch for your letter.

There is no annual membership fee or dues of any sort for Junior Birdmen of America. Once you are a member, you are always a member, passing into the general council when you become twenty-two years of age.

An official Junior Birdmen model plane kit for beginners will be announced shortly. There will be a further line of official Junior Birdmen kits for advanced model fliers.

Girls are entitled to the same privileges as boys. They are classified into the two age groups just as the boys and are not to be separated in any other way. We know of many girls who are equally as good model builders and fliers as boys. And the same goes for

D. J. CANTWELL'S WED 50 YEARS

Several hundred friends and relatives called today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doris J. Cantwell, 28 Thacher St., Hyde Park, where the couple, surrounded by their children, held an informal reception for their golden wedding anniversary. Born in St. John, N. Y., both came here to be married at St. Joseph's Church, West End, April 19, 1884. They have been residents of Boston ever since.

Of nine children, six are still living and were present at the home. Donald Brian, actor-brother of Mrs. Cantwell, made a special trip from New York for the occasion.

The children are Mrs. Robert G. Kennedy, of Syracuse, N. Y.; Edward D. Henson, of Mattapan; Mrs. Ralph H. Clifford, of Hyde Park; Mrs. Watson E. Curtis, of Mattapan; Frank D. and Richard Cantwell, of Hyde Park and Syracuse, respectively.

Mr. Cantwell is actively engaged in business. He was formerly with Jordan Marsh Company, and at present is with Bailey & Wood. He always has been associated with the curtain and shade industry and is known throughout New England by his long service.

The couple have 27 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. Cantwell was for years a member of the Newfoundlands, the Terravivans, and is a member of St. Vernon Council, K. of C.

THE THIN MAN -- By Dashiell Hammett--GLORIA SWANSON ON AIR

Mimi and Nick Battle Over Dorothy, Afraid to Talk

SOME to appear on the screen in a thrilling action picture made by Cosmopolitan Productions for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

"Who does he know killed her?" asked.

Gilbert said: "You're making an ass of yourself, Dorothy, you're--"

I interrupted him: "Let her. Let her say what she's got to say. Who killed her, Dorothy?"

She looked at her brother and lowered her eyes and no longer held herself erect. Looking at the floor, she said indignantly: "I don't know. He knows." She raised her eyes to mine and trembled. "Can't you see I'm afraid?" she cried. "I'm afraid of them. Take me away and I'll tell you, but I'm afraid."

Mimi laughed at me. "You asked for it. It serves you right."

Gilbert was blushing. "It's so silly," he mumbled.

I said: "Sure, I'll take you away, but I'd like to have it out now while we're all together." Dorothy shook her head. "I'm afraid."

Mimi said: "I wish you wouldn't baby her so, Nick. It only makes her worse. She--"

I asked Nora: "What do you say?"

She stood up and stretched without lifting her arms. Her face was pink and lovely as it always is when she has been sleeping. She smiled down at me and said: "Let's go home. I don't like these people. Come on, get your hat and coat, Dorothy."

Mimi said to Dorothy: "Go to bed."

Dorothy put the tips of the fingers of her left hand to her mouth and whimpered through her teeth. "Don't let her beat me, Nick."

I was watching Mimi, whose face wore a pained half-smile, as she moved with her breathing and I could hear her breathing.

Nora went around to Dorothy. "Come on, we'll wash your face."

Mimi made an animal noise in her throat, muscles thickened on the back of her neck, and she put her weight on the balls of her feet.

Nora stepped between Mimi and Dorothy. I caught Mimi by a shoulder as she started forward, but my other arm around her waist from behind, and lifted her off her feet. She screamed and hit back at me with her fists and her hard sharp high heels made dents in my shins.

Nora pushed Dorothy out of the room and stood in the doorway watching us. Her face was white. I saw it clearly, sharply. Everything else was blurred. When clumsy, ineffectual blows on my back and shoulders brought me around to find Gilbert pommeling me, I could see him but dimly and I hardly felt the contact when he "choked him" said. "Cut it out, I don't want to hurt you, Gilbert." I carried Mimi over to the sofa and dumped her on her back on it, sat on her knees, and looked at each other.

Gilbert was at me again. I tried to pop his kneecap, but kicked him too low, kicked his leg from under him. He fell down on the floor in a tangle. I kicked at him again, miffed, and said: "We can fight afterwards. Get some water."

Mimi's face was becoming purple. Her eyes protruded, glassy, senseless, enormous. saliva bubbled and hissed between clenched teeth as she breathed, and her red throat--her whole body--was a quivering mass of veins and muscles swollen until it seemed they must burst. Her wrists were out in my hands and sweat made them hot to hold.

Nora beside me with a glass of water was a welcome sight. "Chuck it in her face," I said.

Nora chuckled. I Mimi separated her teeth to gasp and she shut her eyes. She moved her head violently from side to side, but there was less violence in the squirming of her body.

"Do it again," I said.

The second glass of water brought a spluttering protest from Mimi and the fight went out of her body. She lay still, limp, panting. Her wrists were out from her wrists and stood up, Gilbert standing on one foot, was leaning against a table nursing the leg I had kicked. Dorothy, big-eyed and pale, was in the doorway.

way, undecided whether to come in or run off and hide. Nora, beside me, holding the heavy glass in her hand, asked: "Think she's all right?"

"Sure."

Frequently Mimi opened her eyes, tried to blink the water out of them. I put a handkerchief in her hand. She wiped her face, gave a long shivering sigh, and sat up on the sofa, looking around the room, still blinking a little. When she saw me she smiled feebly. There was guilt in her eyes, but nothing you could call remorse. She touched her hair with an unsteady hand and said: "I've certainly been drowned."

"Some day you're going into one of those things and not come out of it."

She looked past me at her son. "Gil, what's happened to you?" she asked.

He hastily took his hand off his leg and put his foot down on the floor. "I--uh--nothing," he said.

"I'm perfectly all right," he smoothed his hair, straightened his necktie. She began to laugh. "Oh, Gil, did you really try to protect me?" And from Nick? Her laughter increased. "It was awfully sweet of you, but awfully silly. Why, he's a monster, Gil. Nobody could--" She cut me off. "I don't want to hear of your handkerchief over her mouth and rock her back and forth."

I looked aside at Nora. Her mouth was set and her eyes were almost black with anger. I touched her arm. "Let's blow. Give your mother a drink, Gilbert. She'll be all right in a minute or two."

Film Star Faces Microphone on Vallee Program Tonight

By N. F. T.

Every day I rather expect to learn that Rudy Vallee has arranged with a certain music house to appear weekly to appear as a very special guest artist one of these Thursday nights. To date, however, the popular "vallee" has not yet been heard. It is a thrilling thought. Almost every one of professional note seems to have a network thing with Rudy, except of course, the aforementioned figure, meaning Mr. "Jumping Jitters" Dillinger. I'll bet my socks against anybody's pants that Rudy will be like no body's business. Yes, and he'll probably come right back with "After I Get to an appropriate extent. Police radio stations want Johnny, too, and they want Oh, well, if and when the elusive singing man ever does broadcast here to register some double-bared hope to excite himself over this or that brand of such and such music, it is possible for him to remain at large this month. Certainly so full of the builder's hour would interest him.

STORY AND SONG

Meanwhile, let's get along down to the gala weekly banquet of Rudy Vallee actually has in store tonight. Rudy will be here between 8 and 9 o'clock. In the bright spot, we find Gloria Swanson, of screen renown. Miss Swanson will take two turns the first being a dramatic adaptation of "The Girl in the Red Coat" by Charters. For a second act, she will be chosen "Love, Your Magic Spell Is Everywhere" for a selection. Two chaps named Cross and Dunn draw the comedy assignment and that just about rounds out the studio show listeners can expect.

PATRIOTS' DAY PROGRAM

Principal addresses at the annual Patriots Day banquet of the Massachusetts State Council of the Knights of Columbus, which will be held in the honor of William Cardinal O'Connell, will be broadcast over WAAE and associated Yankee network stations between 8:30 and 9:30 P. M. The banquet will be held in the main ballroom of the Copple Plaza Hotel.

Cardinal O'Connell, who on June 1st will celebrate the golden jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood, heads the list of speakers. James M. Ritchey, with songs of the K. C. will preside. Other addresses during the broadcast will be given by Senator David I. Walsh, Gov. Joseph B. Ely, Mayor Frederick W. Mander, and James Roosevelt.

Hub broadcasting houses play host to Babe Ruth tomorrow evening. Baseball's most colorful name and colorful performer, will pass out some valuable hints to the sandlot sluggers when he holds forth at the Hotel Bradford Astor. It's the new series of Friday night programs based on the great Yankee outfielder's career and is slated for coast to coast from 8:45 until 9 o'clock.

Hence a nervous child is much more inclined to temper than a phlegmatic one. A brilliant, high-spirited child always has a temper. It is not inherited. It is a necessary outlet to his high-strung nerves and strong emotions—and it is almost impossible for him to learn to control it unless other nervous and emotional outlets are provided him.

The child inclined to "temper" should be given plenty of rest and urged to take plenty of outdoor exercise. And don't try to stimulate him by too much adulation or vent or by too much emotional demonstration. He needs quiet and calm. He needs a well-regulated diet containing highly assimilable foods. Also, he needs a mother to let him play alone part of each day.

Many children use "tantrums" as a method of getting their own way, having learned from "baby" that crying proved so annoying, if kept up, that any price would be paid to stop it. A child attempting such blackmail should not be spared. He must be told to give up crying and then left completely alone and ignored, behind a shut door, until convinced that his performance has been getting in his own way. He has then estranged him-

Every Citizen Should Ask Congressional Representative to Back McLeod Bill

EVERY citizen should be interested in the McLeod Bill, now before Congress. The measure provides for full payment of depositors of closed banks which belonged to the Federal Reserve System.

Communicate at once with your Congressional Representative, urging him or her to work for enactment of the bill at this session.

Ask your Representative to urge the House Rules Committee to report a special rule for immediate consideration of the McLeod Bill on the floor of the House.

U. S. SEEKS WAY TO FINANCE M'LEOD BILL

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, April 19.—A new survey of the "closed" banks, with a view to determining whether the government can finance a further release of deposits, was requested today by the administration as a means of satisfying demands for enactment of the McLeod closed bank pay-off bill.

This possibility developed from a conference between Sen. Gladys (D) of Virginia, former secretary of the treasury and a financial authority, with a director of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. The plan developed was the use of FDIC funds to a deposit of J. P. T. O'Connor, E. H. Hunt and Leo T. Crowley were the directors who conferred with the.

WILCOX, GLASS PLAN

In the House Democratic leaders were at today's session were studying various plans for financing the bill for the McLeod bill, after conferring with its proponents.

Speaker Rains, Democratic Floor Leader Byrd and Chairman Stinson of the House Banking committee, met with Rep. McLeod (D) of Michigan and other advocates of a bill which would authorize the FDIC to liquidate closed banks.

Administration leaders, rather than the supporters of the bill. For one thing it would serve to satisfy sentiment now in favor of the McLeod bill which would use some $200 million of federal money to pay off depositors. The FDIC directors, however, expressed that most of the sound Federal funds held by the closed banks had been taken over by the FDIC to protect its assets. They argued some of the remaining residual in closed banks was worthless.

SURVEY ASSETS
A further survey of assets in closed banks will show a drastic change in the value of assets. It is estimated that the spread trend of assets is continuing. The last survey was made. If the survey showed a 20% value for the "closed" assets, it was estimated the FDIC could be used to furnish the desired aid.

A new bill, extending the temporary $200 million deposit insurance for another full year after July 1, passed the Senate last week. It now lies before the House Banking Committee. It could be amended to provide for further aid of closed banks.

BRUNELLE WINS 10-MILE RUN

Somerville Ace Boosts Tally to Help Topple Rindge

Tony Gozza of Somerville here skids home safe in the first inning of the game against Rindge Tech this morning at Dilboy Field, Somerville. Catcher Dunsant of Rindge starts after Tony, but too late. The Somerville ace slammed Rindge, 13 to 3. Hard hitting by Somerville accounted for the easy win. (Photo by Boston American staff photographer.)

BRUNELLI FIRST IN O'CONNELL 10-MILE RUN

A. J. Brunelli of Medford, running attached, won the 10 mile O'Connell Post race today from a field of sixty starters. Hank Zamparelli, North Medford Club, was second, Linden G. Dempster, Norfolk Y. M. A. third; Raymond Egan, United Shore A. A. fourth and John Simkins, Fairview A. C. fifth.

Brunelli's time for the race, which started from the Lowell School in Jamaica Plain, was 58:00, forty six seconds faster than that of Zamparelli. However, Zamparelli won the time prize, aided by his liberal handicap of seven and a half minutes.

David Murphy led the field until the pack reached Hyde Park ave. when he suddenly was seized with cramps and collapsed. He failed to finish. Brunelli then took the lead and beat Zamparelli by fully 20 yards in a desperate finish.

Brunelli is 32 years of age and has been competing in the O'Connell Marathon for the past five years. Three years ago he won the 15-mile New Bedford run. Dempster, who finished third, won the race three years ago.

'Blondy' Puts on Show for Gertrude Who Sees Again After 16 Years

By Bill Corum

New York, April 19.—The big fellow hit me yesterday. You know that Jimmy Fox, who will bet his own money that he beats the big fellow in the home run derby this year, hit two, so, no doubt, that each of the "XX" in his name would mark a spot.

The Yanks won. The Giants won. I did the Senators, the Cubs and the Browns. But none of these things was the really outstanding event of yesterday's ball games from the Hudson to the Mississippi.

FAITH REWARDED

You know "Blondy," the swagging young man from Lynn, Mass., who says "They can't beat us," and then proves it. Probably you don't know Gertrude. Well, Gertrude in this case is Miss Gertrude Musier of Flushing, L. I.

A sufferer of the dread infantile paralysis, Miss Musier lost her eye-eyelid when she was three years old. She is 19 now, and until a fortnight ago she had only hoped to see again. The best doctors money could command had told her father that her optic nerve was dead and that it was foolish to go on hoping that she would one day see. But you can't keep a game girl, or a game guy, from hoping.

"Some day I want to see a ball game, daddy," she told her father more than once.

"Don't you worry, Darling," he invariably replied, "some day you'll see a ball game."

For fifteen years, however, she lived "seeing things" only with her senses and her sensitive fingers, learning to operate a typewriter, to play the piano, to read and to write; educating herself, until last year she graduated from the New York Institute of the Blind.

And then, miraculously, her sight came back by slow stages, and yesterday she saw that ball game. It must be true that there is nothing in the world so great as faith.

Anyhow, the Evening Journal smashed the story across its first page in the early editions yesterday, and when Blondy Ryan saw that Miss Musier would be at the ball game, he announced to his mother:

BLONDY MAKES GOOD

"There's a girl for whom a fellow should give his best, watch me go today!"

And if you have a box score handy you can turn it to and see how "the slinger" went. But if you haven't a box score handy, I'll tell you the stats and he handled nine chances around second base in a fashion that would have turned Frisch, Collins and Hornsby, in their prime, green with envy.

Westlake Ryan? How he can turn it on when there is some incentive for it? Certainly no ball player could have had a finer incentive than this sweet girl of 19, who sat there and positively beamed and applauded wildly at every play, good or bad.

The most amazing thing about it, aside from Miss Musier's recovery of her sight, is the way that Ryan rose to all occasions. He doesn't miss, does he?
